Julie Keller relishes the simple things: hot chocolate on winter nights, good friends she calls her family, and her laid-back career as a massage therapist and yoga instructor. Julie is content with her life until Chase Rider returns to Bakersfield. Bodyguard Chase Rider isn't thrilled to be back in the town where he spent his childhood summers. His beloved grandmother passed away, leaving him a house in need of major repairs. With a three-week timetable and a lot to do, he doesn't have time for distractions. Then he bumps into Julie, the one woman he hoped never to see again. Chase tries to pretend Julie doesn't exist, but ten years hasn't diminished his attraction to the hazel-eyed stunner. When a stranger grabs Julie's arm at the grocery store—a woman who insists Julie's life isn't what it seems, Chase can't help but get involved. Julie and Chase dig into a twenty-five-year-old mystery, unearthing more questions than answers. But the past is closer than they realize, and the consequences of the truth have the potential to be deadly. Industry. Answers for Beginners and Teachers is filled with interesting Bible scriptures and the authors comments on them. Ladonna shares her personal experiences, Gods audible voice, spiritual dreams, and visions, how she was healed of cancer, and two out-of-body experiences. Teachers can use this book as a guide for Bible-study groups and sermons. Or it can be read through like a book. It is written for new Christians and others who are thirsting for Gods Word. Expect to have your memory refreshed on the deeper things of God and find answers to questions you may have that are similar to those the author had for many years. How should we live? According to philosopher and biologist Massimo Pigliucci, the greatest guidance to this essential question lies in combining the wisdom of 24 centuries of philosophy with the latest research from 21st century science. In Answers for Aristotle, Pigliucci argues that the combination of science and philosophy first pioneered by Aristotle offers us the best possible tool for understanding the world and ourselves. As Aristotle knew, each mode of thought has the power to clarify the other: science provides facts, and philosophy helps us reflect on the values with which to assess them. But over the centuries, the two have become uncoupled, leaving us with questions -- about morality, love, friendship, justice, and politics -- that neither field could fully answer on its own. Pigliucci argues that only by rejoining each other can modern science and philosophy reach their full potential, while we harness them to help us reach ours. Pigliucci discusses such essential issues as how to tell right from wrong, the nature of love and friendship, and whether we can really ever know ourselves -- all in service of helping us find our path to the best possible life. Combining the two most powerful intellectual traditions in history, Answers for Aristotle is a remarkable guide to discovering what really matters and why. Industry. Copyright law is a critical issue for authors, librarians, publishers, and information vendors. It is also a complex area, with many shades of gray. Librarians continually need to seek answers to questions ranging from the reproduction of copyrighted works for library users, through the performance of audiovisual works, to the digitization and display of protected works on library websites. This book presents updated versions of the author's copyright columns published in Against the Grain, the leading journal in acquisitions librarianship since the late 1990s. It is the first volume in the series Charleston Insights in Library, Archival, and Information Sciences. The aim of the Charleston Insights series is to focus on important topics in library and information science, presenting the issues in a relatively jargon-free way that is accessible to all types of information professionals, including librarians, publishers, and vendors, and this goal shapes the pragmatic and accessible tone of the book. The volume is presented in question-and-answer format. The questions are real, submitted by librarians, educators, and other information professionals who have attended the author's copyright law workshops and presentations or submitted them to her by e-mail or telephone. The author has selected the questions and answers that have general applicability. She has then arranged them into logical chapters, each prefaced by a short introduction to the topic. Because it is written in an accessible and clear style, readers may want to review the entire work or they can just access particular chapters or even specific questions as they need them. The volume includes an index to facilitate reference use. With over 11 million God's Promises sold, J. Countryman is bringing forth a new hardcover series. that will enable you to apply for any position in the Oil and Gas Industry. Grammar reference and practice for the Cambridge PET exam. It is true that mankind itself has probably always been characterized with the main desire to determine just what spiritual truth really is. For centuries and centuries, highly educated philosophers and religious men alike have always stood toe-to-toe, disagreeing on spiritual truth. Since they cannot all be right, this would strongly indicate that education, religious persuasion, or even intelligence has little to do with our discovery of the real spiritual truth. For if these things were truly critical, then obviously, the spiritual/intellectual giants of history would have agreed on spiritual truth long ago. In this work, author Ted Even endeavors to show that the disagreeing intellectuals/skeptics of the past only serves to reinforce Christ's radical statement about our need to just become like little children in order to discover the spiritual truth and that literally everyone has the same opportunity to enter the kingdom of heaven on that basis. However, while super-intelligence or big degrees may not be necessary, the discovery of spiritual truth does require just one very reasonable quality of heart which little children have always possessed. Find out just what this basic quality of heart is as you continue your search for spiritual truth within this simple to understand work which only leaves the real spiritual truth left standing. In this heartening study of 1 and 2 Corinthians readers will discover how they can control unruly emotions in their own lives and in their relationships with others. The key? The cross of Christ. Be sure you have the knowledge you need to become a Certified Dental Assistant or pass your local and state exams! This book contains three simulated practice certification exams. 960 multiple-choice questions in all, closely mirror the content you'll be tested on, so you get the best preparation possible. The job interview is probably the most important step you will take in your job search journey. Because it's always important to be prepared to respond effectively to the

The answer selection task involves selecting the most appropriate answer for a question given a list of answers for the question. The problem tackled in this thesis is a subset of the answer selection task and concentrates on answer selection for non-factoid questions. Non-factoid questions are ones which cannot be answered in a word or phrase. They usually have long answers which do not share a lot of common words with the question. Two methods are discussed in this thesis. First is a Convolutional Neural Network method which creates distributed vector representations for the questions and answers, and learns to minimize the distance (in vector space) between questions and their most-appropriate answers. Second is a question generation approach in which a Seq2Seq model is trained to generate questions from the given answers and the previously discussed CNN is then used to create vector representations of the questions minimizing the distance between the true question and the question generated by the true answer. Answer selection is treated as an information retrieval task and the precision@1 and mean reciprocal rank scores are reported. Evaluation is carried out on two datasets, the Yahoo Webscope L6 which is a standard dataset for the answer selection task and the Library corpus - a custom dataset created by collecting student responses to information literacy questions to earn online micro-credentials. The performance of the CNN model shows improvement in precision@1 scores over state of the art models on the library corpus and shows comparable performance on the Yahoo Answers corpus. The results obtained using the question generation approach are promising and suggest steps for future work.
